LOS ANGELES, CA – Khorrami Pollard & Abir LLP (KP&A), a national law firm representing plaintiffs, has added three associates to help deepen the firm’s expertise and resources in consumer fraud, labor and employment matters, catastrophic personal injury, civil rights and mass torts. The additions expand the firm’s professional staff to 22 attorneys.

Anne Kelson will focus on class actions, with an emphasis on consumer fraud, and labor and employment matters. She obtained her J.D. from the University of California Davis, a B.A. in philosophy from Mount Holyoke College, and a Masters degree in education from Brooklyn College.

Jean Liao specializes in mass torts, catastrophic personal injury and civil rights litigation. She earned her J.D. from Loyola Law School and her B.A. in political science from the University of California Los Angeles, graduating in the top 15% of her class.

Crystal Yagoobian’s expertise includes class actions, with an emphasis on consumer fraud, and labor and employment matters. She received her J.D. from Pepperdine University School of Law and her B.A. in psychology, English minor, from the University of California Los Angeles.

“Anne, Jean and Crystal are talented attorneys committed to making significant contributions to consumer rights and the health and well-being of our clients,” said Shawn Khorrani, founding partner of KP&A. “Their addition will be a significant asset to the firm and our clients.”

As one of the largest plaintiff-only firms in the nation, KP&A currently represents tens of thousands of individuals, and handles class actions covering millions of members, in a variety of cases – including class actions, mass torts, pharmaceuticals, consumer fraud, labor and employment matters, product liability, natural disasters and toxic torts.

Khorrani Pollard & Abir LLP is dedicated to protecting the rights of individuals against large corporate interests and only accepts cases on a contingency basis – meaning that our clients never pay for our services unless we successfully handle their matters.
